

Vietnam travel health

By puretravel

Created 2010/05/04 - 4:53pm

4 May, 2010 - 16:53 ? puretravel

Travellers from all over Europe can fly directly from Paris, London and Frankfurt to Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City. Travellers from North America can travel via cities in Europe or Asia directly to Hanoi and Ho Chi Minh City. There are five sites in Vietnam on the world heritage list which are worthwhile a visit during a holiday in Vietnam.

Hanoi is the capital of Vietnam, and presents an interesting contrast to Ho Chi Minh City. Hanoi was formerly the capital of North Vietnam when Vietnam was divided prior to the end of the Vietnam War, and continued after the war as the capital of unified Vietnam. While Ho Chi Minh City is the economic center of Vietnam, Hanoi presents a slower, and more traditional, picture of Vietnam. It also has a wealth of interesting tourist sites, including Reunification Palace, the Municipal Theatre, and the Hotel Majestic.

The capital city of Vietnam is Hanoi. While in Hanoi you will find many temples and pagodas. If you want to visit a pagoda, then you need to visit their oldest pagoda. It is the Tran Quoc. The city is filled with beautiful buildings which reflect both Southeast Asian architecture and the architecture of the French.

A place on the list of many travelers who are visiting on Vietnam tour is the small coastal town of Hoi An. The town exhibits a wealth of architecture that reflects the town's Japanese, Chinese, European, and Vietnamese influences.

Before you set off on your exciting travel adventure, be sure to use some of the many planning and organizing tools out there such as online resources, which will help you get your travel adventure plans in order easily and quickly, such as the travel guide at http://www.puretravel.com/Guide/Asia/South-East\_Asia/vietnam which features lots of tips, advice photos and itinerary samples for your trip.

- Women's Health
- Women's Health